States during the calendar years 1911, 1910, 1909 and 1908 was issued today by Census Director E. Dana Durand. It was prepared under the direction of William Stewart chief statistician for manu factures, by Jasper E. Whelchel, expert special agent. The data were collected in co-operation with the forest service of the Department of Agriculture, and form one of a series of annual reports regarding

The steady growth which has characeral years continued during 1911. The otal consumption for that year by 268 wood of all species. This was an increase active mills of 326,445 cords, or 8.2 per cent, and over that of 1908 reported by 251 active mills of 981,099 cords, or 29.3

States Report Gains.

The increased consumption shown for 1911 as compared with 1910 was general, nearly all of the individual states reporting gains. New York, Maine and Wisconsin, which, in the order named, were both 1910 and 1911, showed increases in respectively. The individual states showing the largest percentages of gain, however, were Texas, with 122.7 per cent; Vermont, with 18.5 per cent, and Massachusetts, with 16.0 per cent. Slight decreases as between these two years were noted in the figures for New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Delaware and South Carolina, ranging from 17.1 per cent in Ohio to 1.9 per cent in Delaware, and in-Of the total increase in pulpwood consumption in 1911 over 1910, 233,746 cords, nearly 60 per cent was contributed by ton: Trustee, Samuel J. Hunt, St. Louis; nearly 60 per cent was contributed by spruce alone, the remainder of the increase being distributed between balsam fir, pine, white fir and mill waste. A peculiar feature of the showing with respect to spruce consumption is that the increase in the total quantity of this wood reported was confined almost entirely to domestic spruce, the quantity of imported spruce consumed in 1911 forming 35.9 per cent of the total of spruce, as compared with 38 per cent in 1910.

ton: Trustee, Samuel J. Hunt, St. Louis; past grand chief, Thomas H. Jones, Washington, D. C.; grand chief, James U. Bunce, Buffalo, N. Y.; assistant grand chief, Henry C. Senn, Batavia, N. Y.; secretary, William H. Armstrong, New York; treasurer, N. J. Burdick, Chicago; warden, William J. Weyker, Chicago; guard, Charles F. Siegrist, Cleveland; trustees, E. H. Terry of Toronto, Canada, and Frank Townsend of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Marked Exception Shown.

Because of the fact that the bulk of the ncrease in pulpwood consumption in 1911 over 1910 was supplied by spruce, the marked exception to the tendency disclosed during the past few years, of replacing spruce as a pulp material with other and cheaper woods. Spruce formed 58.1 per cent of the total of all woods in 1911, as against 58 per cent in 1909, 64.5 per cent in 1909, 64.5 per cent in 1907.

The reported consumption of the total of all woods in 1907.

The reported consumption of slabs and other mill waste in 1911, namely, 280,534 cords, was an increase over the preceding cords, was an increase over the preceding year of 6.8 per cent, a rate of gain greater than that made by the total consumption of all wood in 1911 over 1910.

The reported production of air-dry pulp in 1911, namely, 2,686,134 tons, exceeded the output in 1910 by 152,158 tons, or 6 per cent, and was distributed by method of manufacture as follows: Mechanical, 1,229,719 tons; sulphite, 1,126,496 tons; soda, 317,764 tons; sulphate, 12,155 tons.

An Easy Trip Through Yellowstone Park

What can wipe out the weariness of a hard winter like a good vacation trip? And nowhere else in all the world are there so many curious and awe-inspiring sights as in Yellowstone National Park.

The journey to the entrance itself via the Burlington Route is full of pleasure and once inside you are in a world of wonders. Your tour of the Park may be made by stage coach with stops at perfectly appointed hotels, or if you care for tent life you can' spend a glorious week in camping out. Day after day is filled with eye-delighting geysers, mountain vistas that stretch to heaven, rocks the color of a sunset, and strange tumbling rivers that plunge thousands of feet in thundering falls. You will come home made over in mind and body.

I can make your trip all the more enjoyable if you will write me asking any questions you may want to know. I'm employed by the Burlington Route to look after your interests, and it's my job to take as many of the little details off your mind as possible. I'll send you our beautiful illustrated folders, I'll tell you about special excursion rates and when is the best time to go. I'll buy and deliver your railroad and sleeper tickets and I'll fix everything so you won't have a worry during the whole trip. Just write me—a postal will do. Wm.
